About the Test

Purpose

Monash English Placement Test (MEPT) is a free English language placement tool available for authorised Monash agents to administer in cases when Monash applicants cannot provide evidence of their English proficiency through an IELTS or other accepted international test of English.

MEPT is designed to assess applicants' current English ability in order to match them to the most appropriate Monash English course.

Benefits to Monash Agents and Monash Applicants

Taking the Monash English Placement Test provides applicants with a realistic estimation of their English level and allows them to more effectively plan their studies in Australia by estimating the length of English studies required.

- MEPT is FREE to applicants and Agents;
- MEPT is short, simple and convenient to administer;
- MEPT positively affects applicants' satisfaction, as it allows them to enter English course at the right level of difficulty and with applicants of the same level of English;
- MEPT increases applicants' chances of successfully passing their English courses and reaching their destination courses in the allocated time; and
- MEPT also helps applicants in planning their finances and the length of study away from home.

A positive study experience will result in a favourable image of your Agency and in your services being recommended to others.

Importance of Presenting True Language Ability

It is of utmost importance that applicants taking the MEPT present their true language ability. This is to ensure they have a realistic understanding of their English level before they leave their country and arrive in Australia.

Monash University English Language Centre confirms each applicant's English level upon arrival to Australia through a number of classroom diagnostic tests, and reserves the right to move students to the class level most appropriate to them.

Applicants often want to present their abilities to be better than they really are, but this can have very disappointing and costly consequences. For example, if an applicant's true English ability is at a Beginner level, they will not be able to commence their study at our language centre, as we do not provide Beginner classes. Applicants who are found to be of a Beginner level upon arrival to our centre will discover there is no class for them to attend and will have to leave Monash or possibly even the country.

Another disappointment experienced by applicants is when their true English level on arrival is lower than that demonstrated in the MEPT offshore. In these cases, applicants are moved to a class appropriate to their level, which means that they need to study more English and they cannot meet their destination program in the prescribed time. This creates financial pressures, adversely affects applicants' morale and mental health and as a consequence the applicant has a very difficult and unsatisfactory study experience.

To avoid this and similar disappointments, strong invigilation processes in line with the Test administration guidelines need to be put in place by Agencies participating in the MEPT.

Agents should also encourage applicants to present their skills truthfully and counsel them about the negative consequences of providing false results.

Things an Agent must not do:

- Help applicants with Test answers;
- Provide applicants with model answers for the writing component of the Test;
- Provide applicants with more time to complete the Test than prescribed by the Test guidelines;
- Allow applicants to use smart phones or dictionaries during the Test;
- Allow applicants to take the Test out of their business premises.

These actions will lead applicants to be placed in the wrong level, are likely to result in disappointment and a negative Monash experience.

Test Content

MEPT assesses English proficiency from Beginning to Low-Advanced levels.

It is a short, paper-based Test, which is easy to administer and takes 55 minutes plus administration time for preparation, identification, explaining test purpose and signing declarations. Other than a suitable space for administration of the Test it does not require any specialist or additional equipment.

The Test consists of two sections with the following features:

Section 1: Grammar, Vocabulary and Reading (GVR) - 35 minutes

- This section assesses Grammar, Vocabulary Range and Reading Comprehension
- It is a paper-based, multiple choice test consisting of 55 questions

Section 2: Writing – 20 minutes

- Applicants select ONE topic from the two topics provided and are asked to write a minimum of 120 words addressing the topic question.
- Applicants with more limited English writing skills should be encouraged to write as much as they can and should be told not to worry if they cannot complete the task.

Test Package

The Monash English Placement Test Package consists of the following resources:

1. A Test Booklet containing Test questions
2. An Answer Booklet where applicants write their answers
3. Test Administration Guidelines (this document)

Monash English Placement Test Procedure

It is important that all applicants sit the Test under similar conditions regardless of the country in which the Test is undertaken. For this reason, the following test conditions apply:

1. Physical Setting and Conditions

The room used to administer the Test must adhere to the following minimum standards:

- a) It must be enclosed with no through traffic;
- b) It must have sufficient lighting for reading and writing;
- c) It must contain a flat surface provided to each applicant to use for writing of answers;
- d) During the Test period the environment should be quiet and smoke free;
- e) If more than one person is taking the Test, each such person must be seated not less than 2 meters apart to minimise the opportunity of collusion or cheating
- f) Applicants may be permitted to leave the Test room once the Test has started, (i.e. no toilet visits) and must remain in the test room for the time specified for the administration of the Test.

2. Authentication

At the time the Test is administered, the Agent must check that the photo identification document presented by the applicant matches the identity of the applicant who undertakes the Test.

3. Invigilation

The Agent must ensure that the following invigilation requirements are adhered to during the administration of the Test:

- a) The invigilator should have an unobstructed view of the applicant.
- b) The applicant is not to be interrupted once the Test has begun
- c) No assistance is to be provided to the applicant by any person or by any other means.
- d) No dictionaries and no visual, aural or digital aids are available
- e) The applicant is prevented from copying or photographing any of the Test material, especially questions and/or answers and removing them from the room.
- f) The applicant will not have any way of taking notes either through writing or using digital devices, and so the only record made by the applicant is their responses in the Test answer book.
- g) The time limits for Section 1 - 35 minutes and Section 2 - 20 minutes are strictly adhered to.
- h) The applicant is informed when they have 5 minutes to the end of time allowed for the Test.

4. Test Security

MEPT is a secure document and must be treated as one at all times.

Test security is paramount to ensure reliability of the Test score and consequently, accuracy of the length of the language offer. Therefore all Tests and Test materials must be kept in secure conditions and promptly and securely destroyed after use.

5. Scoring by Monash University English Language Centre

After the Monash applicant has completed the Test, the Agent is required to scan the entire Answer Booklet and submit along with the Monash College or Monash University application form to mc.documents@monash.edu or mu.documents@monash.edu or, for Higher Degree by Research applicants to research.degrees@monash.edu.

The Test is then marked by Monash University English Language Centre staff and the duration of the Monash English course is calculated.

Frequently Asked Questions

- 1. Who can administer the MEPT Test at my agency? Can anybody do it?

Only authorized personnel (invigilator) registered with Monash, who have completed training, can access and administer the Test. If the agency needs to change an invigilator after the initial Monash approval, a CHANGE OF AGENT STAFF FORM FOR CONDUCTING MONASH ENGLISH PLACEMENT TEST (MEPT) needs to be completed (see Appendix) and sent to mcpl-mept@muelc.edu.au.
- 2. If an applicant has an IELTS score, should they do MEPT?

No. If an applicant has MEPT and IELTS results, they will be placed into class based on the latest IELTS test results.
- 3. If an applicant completes the MEPT and then chooses to do an IELTS test (or equivalent) which score will be used?

An IELTS test (or equivalent) will always be used in preference to the MEPT.
- 4. Can Monash College extend the length of English study required once an applicant arrives in Melbourne?

We always conduct diagnostic tests of an applicant in their first weeks of study in Melbourne. Sometimes the applicant's true language ability is lower than their MEPT results. If their level is different to that recommended through the MEPT offshore, the applicant will be moved to the correct level. Monash College reserves the right to make the final decision about an applicant's placement into Monash English courses. Monash College will extend the length of English required if the applicant's true English ability is lower than what is presented at the MEPT or if they do not make satisfactory academic progress.
- 5. What is the minimum number of weeks of English offer based on the MEPT?

The minimum number of weeks of English offered is 10 weeks. Exceptions may apply:

 - An applicant may elect to study at the Centre despite having met the English language entry requirements of their destination program; or
 - An applicant needs to extend their study by 5 weeks to meet the requirements of the English program. In these cases, a minimum offer of 5 weeks can be made
- 6. If an applicant receives a packaged offer with 20 weeks of Monash English can they request to only study 10 weeks?

This is strongly discouraged. When applicants arrive at Monash College they will always be placed in the level appropriate to their true language ability. Applicants may not achieve the necessary level of English and may need to extend their English study. This means they will miss their College/University course entry date and be very disappointed.
- 7. Can MEPT be used to enter Monash University?

No. MEPT is for entry into the Monash English program only. To enter Monash University, an applicant will need to sit an IELTS test and achieve the required English language entry requirement.
- 8. Can MEPT results be used for entry into the Monash English Bridging course?

No. MEPT is for entry into the Monash English program only.
- 9. Can the Test be used for entry to Monash Malaysia – Sunway campus?

No. The Test can only be used for entry into the Monash English course in Melbourne. Monash English is not available in Malaysia.

10. Will an applicant receive feedback on their MEPT?

No feedback will be provided on specific Test questions.

11. Can an applicant re-sit the MEPT after 6 months if they have been improving their English?

No. MEPT is valid for 12 months. If the applicant believes that they have improved their English language skills, they should complete an IELTS test.

12. I have already lodged an application. Can I send MEPT answers later?

Yes. Make sure that the applicant's Monash ID is provided on the Answer Sheet.

13. How many versions of the Test are available?

For security reasons the Test is updated regularly. We will inform your Agency when new versions are available. Download the latest version from the MEPT Site for Agents.

14. Can I deliver the Test to group of applicants during road-shows and marketing campaigns?

No, the Test should only be delivered to those who have already decided to apply to Monash and it should not be used as a marketing tool.

15. Can MEPT answers be submitted on a blank piece of paper?

No, the Test should only be completed in the current, original Answer Booklet.

16. Can Grammar, Vocabulary and Reading section and Writing section come from two different versions of the Test?

No, the whole Test should belong to the same version of the Test.

17. Is writing the Test version number on the Answer Booklet page important?

Yes, this way the assessors can apply the correct answer key. This is especially important in the transition period from one Test version to another. Writing the Test version number in the Answer Booklet helps avoiding placement mistakes.

18. Can I give more time to an applicant so they can finish the Test?

No. It is important to adhere to the times provided. Giving applicants more time to complete the Test will alter the reliability of the Test and may not provide accurate Test results.

19. Can I help an applicant with answers?

No. It is important that the applicant presents his/her true language ability. This will increase his/her chance of successful completion of our English courses and timely transition to his/her destination programs at MUFY, Diplomas or University.

20. Can I email the Test to applicant?

Absolutely not. The Test needs to be properly invigilated, in accordance with the latest "Monash English Placement Test Procedure" issued by Monash College. Distributing the Test via email would constitute a breach of MEPT Terms and Conditions, which state that no part of the Test may be transmitted or communicated in any form or by any means without the prior, written permission of the owner.
