

Diploma of Art and Design

Your pathway into a degree from the Faculty of Art, Design and Architecture

Your pathway to an art, design and architecture degree at Monash starts with a diploma

Diploma of Art and Design

CRICOS: 045084G

The Diploma of Art and Design is your first step towards completing your degree in the Faculty of Art, Design and Architecture at Monash.

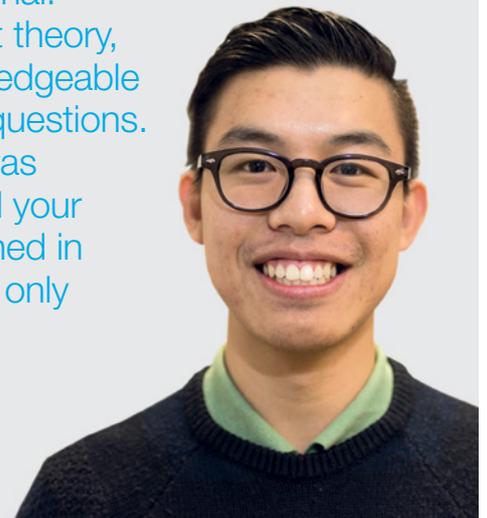

In Part 1 you develop the requisite skills in art and design principles, theory and production. In Part 2, you choose your area of specialisation and study the same units as first year university students.

Which specialisation stream you choose depends on which degree you want to study:

- Industrial design
- Architecture
- Interior architecture
- Fine art
- Communication design

“My design theory class was great. It was fun and very professional. Our teacher had a PhD in art theory, so she was extremely knowledgeable when it came to asking her questions. How she described things was interesting and really opened your mind. Her ideas were explained in the context of the world, not only in art and design.”

Understanding the course structure

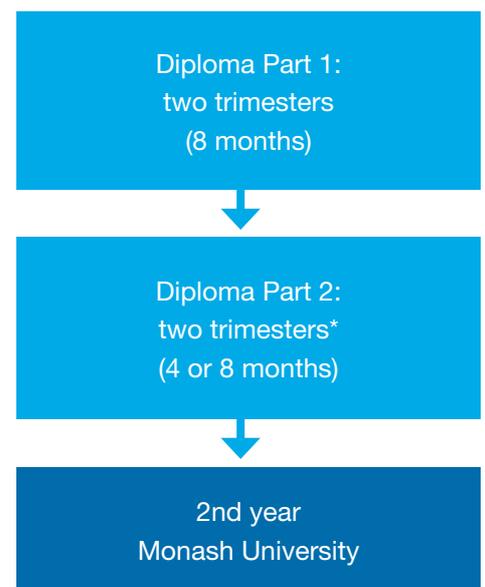

Monash College Diplomas are offered in two parts. Where you start will depend on your highest qualification.

Part 1 is for students who have completed Australian Year 11 or equivalent. After successfully completing Part 1, you immediately commence Part 2. If you achieve exceptional marks during your Part 1 studies, you may be eligible to enter first year at Monash University.

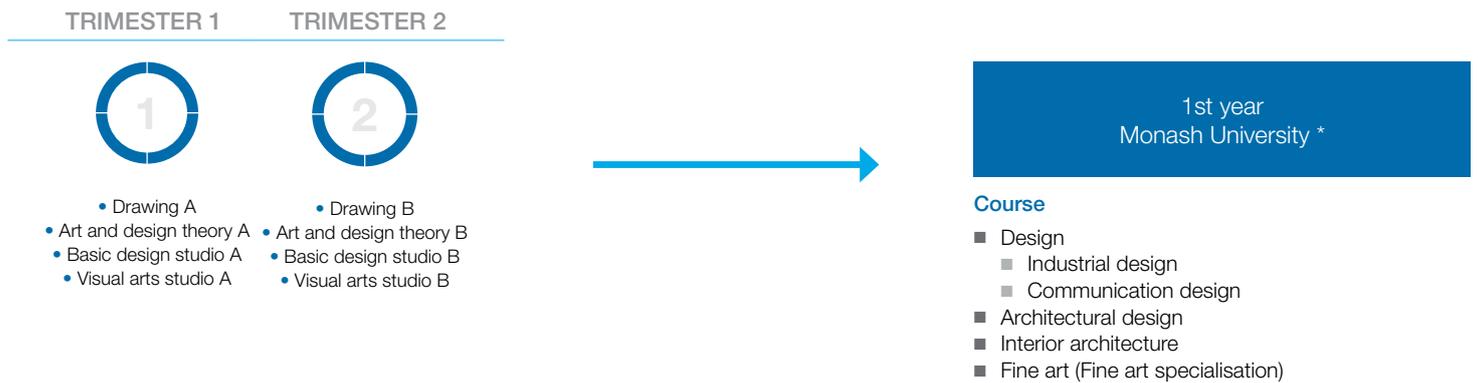

Part 2 is for students who have completed Australian Year 12 or equivalent. After successfully completing Part 2 and meeting faculty entry requirements, you will be accepted for entry into second year of a relevant Monash degree.

To receive your Diploma certificate, you must successfully complete Part 2.

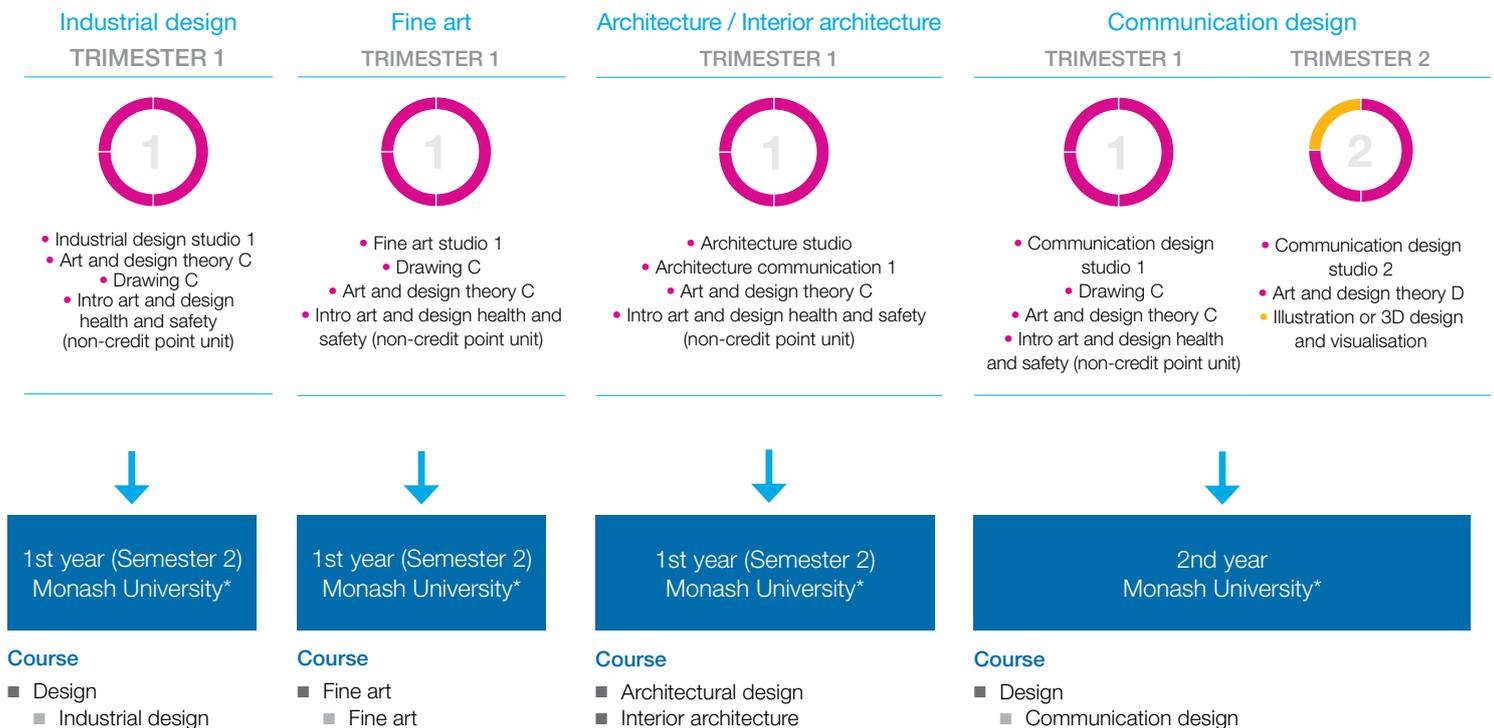

* Some streams in the Diploma of Art & Design Part 2 only have one trimester.

PART 1: Standard – for all students

PART 2: Choose your stream

UNIT TYPES

-  Core units: These units are compulsory
-  Stream units: Study units related to your chosen specialisation
-  Elective units: Choose from the electives available

* Entry requirements into Monash University apply.

Note: Not all units are offered each trimester. Only students completing Communication design Part 2 will receive a Diploma. All other students will enter the university with credit.

Your pathway to a world of career opportunities

Your Diploma of Art and Design is the pathway into a degree with the Faculty of Art, Design and Architecture (MADA), Monash University's expert in visual culture. MADA is a community of artists, designers and architects who advocate the essential role of creative practice for quality of life.

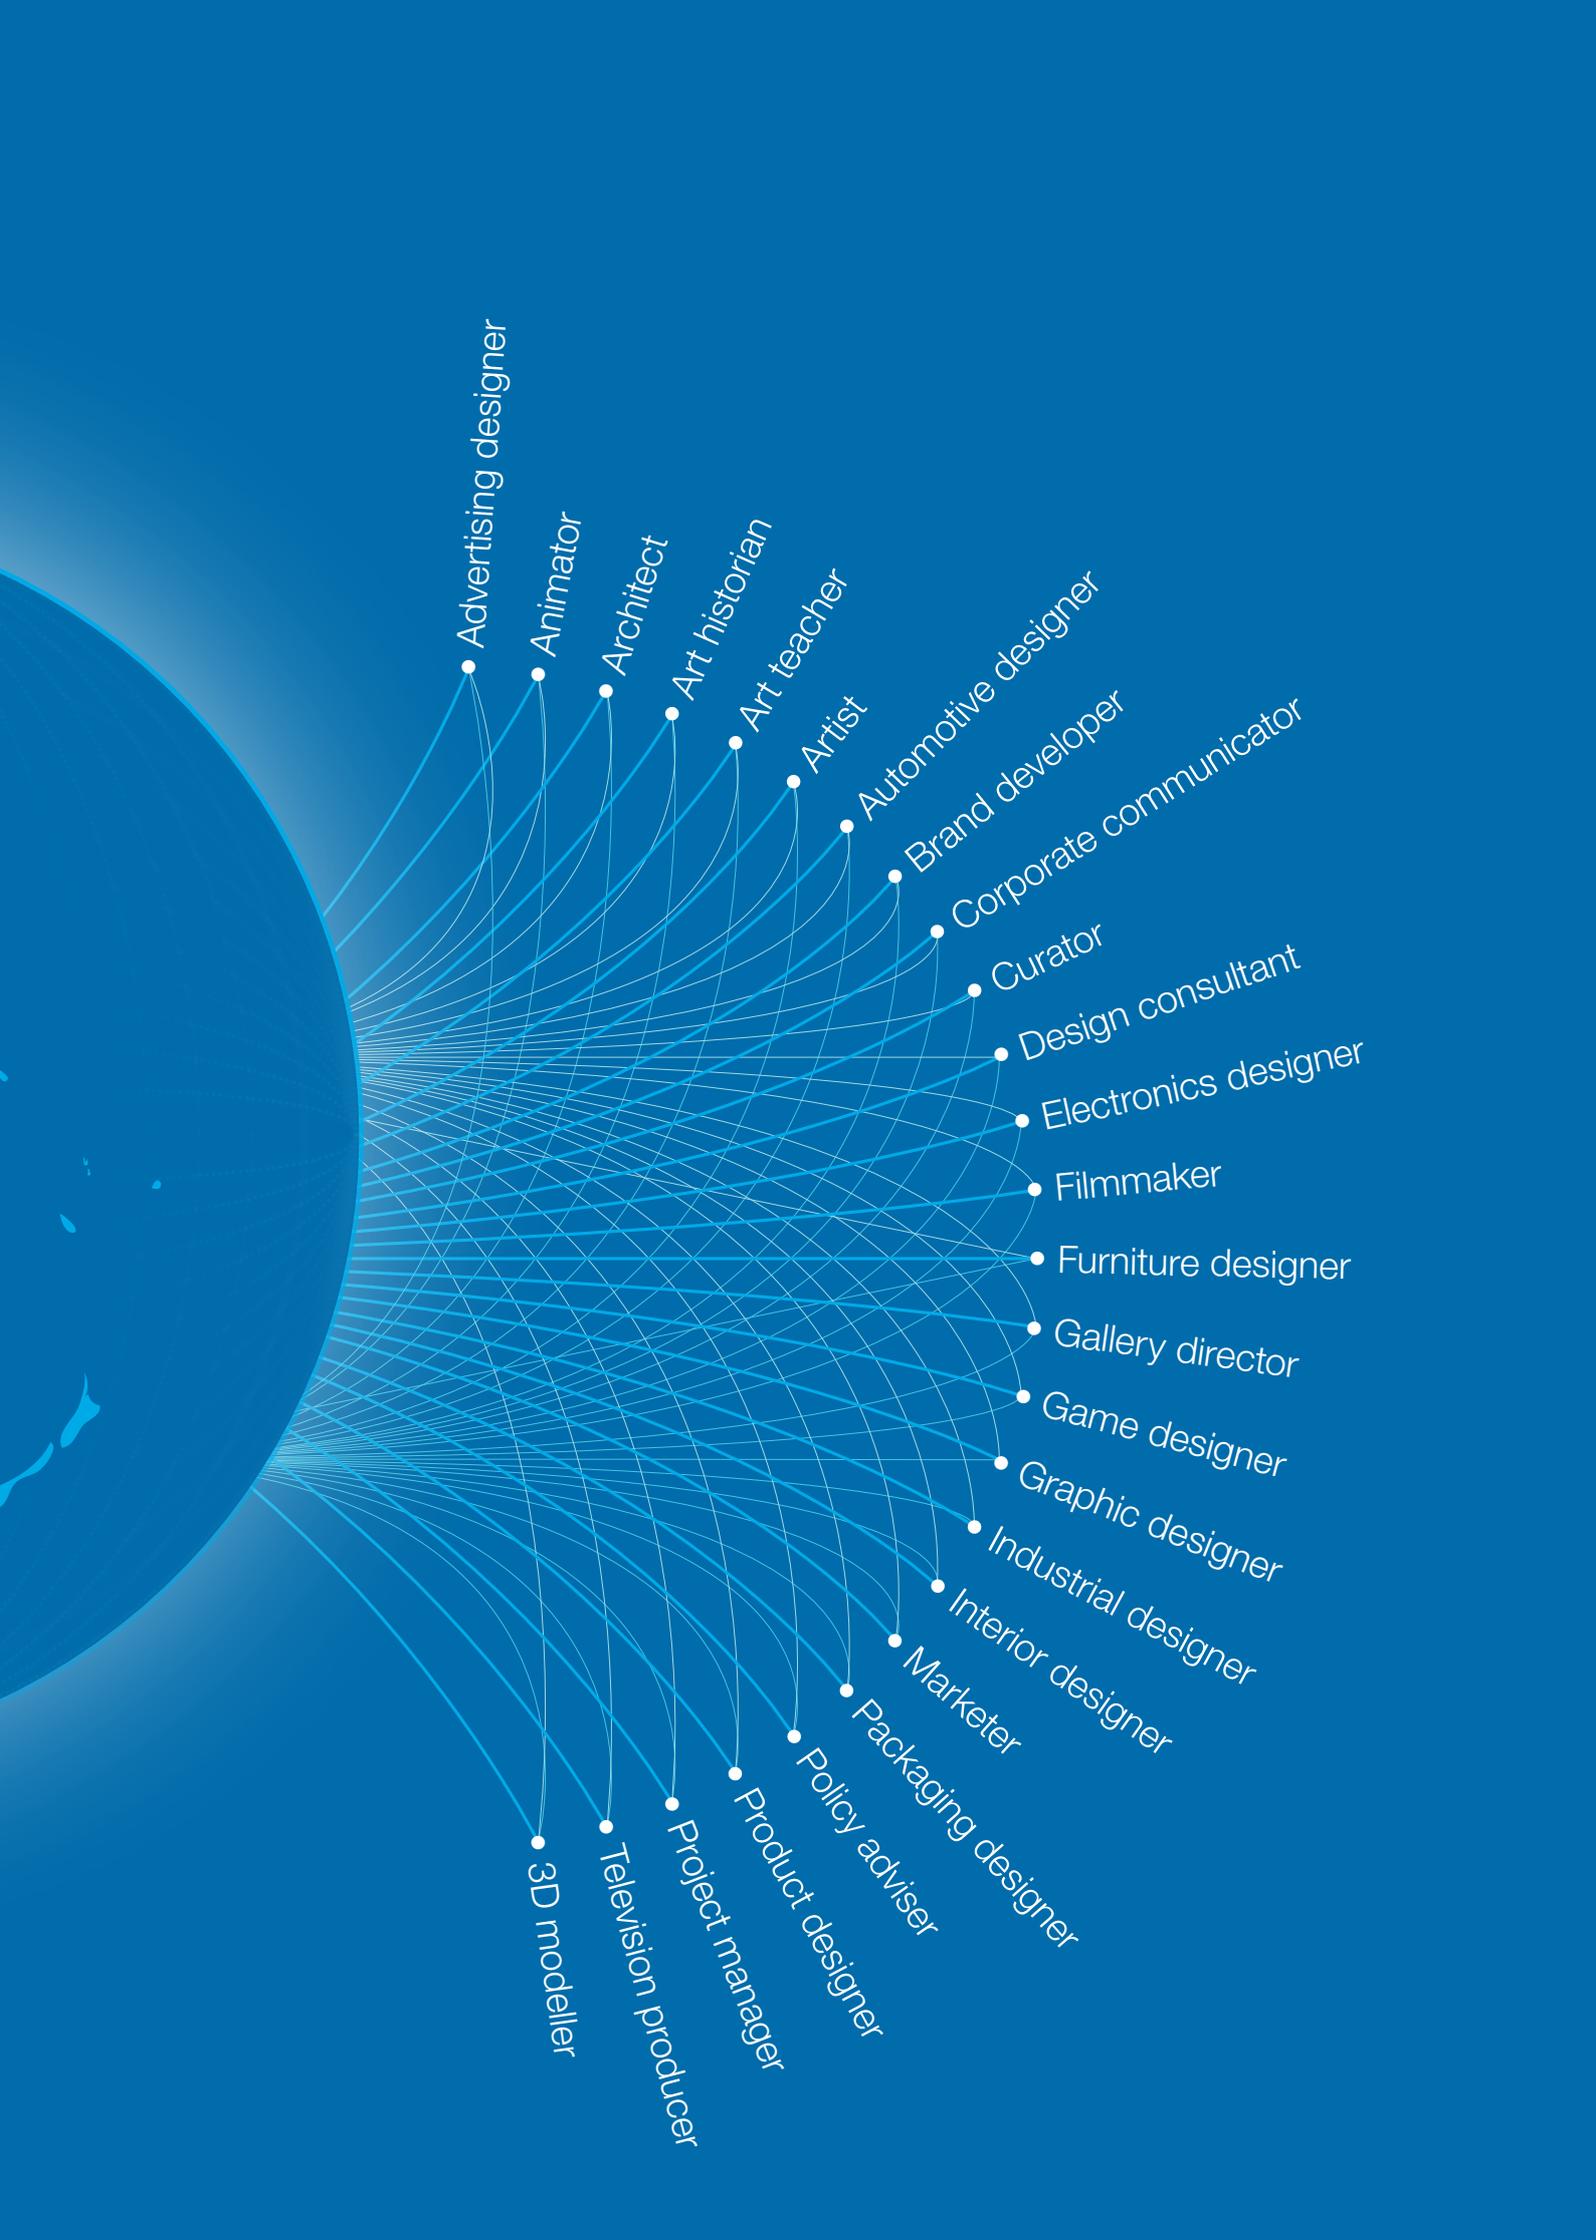

MADA's energy comes from the vibrant community of students, academics, researchers and staff, who together focus on creative activity at the highest level.

As an inquisitive individual, you will be encouraged to add to this energy. You will develop the knowledge and skills to make your vision come alive as you create innovative solutions to improve the world around you.

Monash students have designed solutions to help people with disabilities, created installations that comment on social issues and developed emergency relief structures.

The applications for these skills in your career are limitless.

DEGREE AWARDED

- Bachelor of Interior Architecture (Honours)

Bachelor of Interior Architecture (Honours)

Interior architecture professionals understand how people engage with the world, and how structures, spaces and environments can offer outstanding experiences.

Our Interior Architecture course is unique in Victoria, balancing strengths in creative design and building technology. We explore the creative use of space, structure and experience to develop conceptual agendas that are provocative and innovative, and material solutions that address contemporary conditions.

Career options

You will graduate with the competitive advantage of practical experience and already-established connections with potential employers. You will have a command of the strong conceptual thought and valuable practical skills sought by industry. As an Interior architecture graduate you might adapt existing or heritage buildings for new uses, or design unique objects. You could develop exhibitions or create urban experiences that help communities grow.

MADA
NOW

Two MADA Industrial Design graduates were awarded 2014 Hills Young Australian Design Awards.

Each year, MADA's learning spaces are transformed into one of Melbourne's largest galleries – MADA Now. We present a free exhibition of the work of over 300 graduating artists, designers, and architects.
